If you are talking about the topic of the “under-reaming technology,” the discussion about permitting new drilling technologies needs to have a separate meeting with EPA, probably the next time they come meet. I made a commitment to the proponents who are wondering what the rules will be for that technology that they would get to make the presentation about their technology to EPA directly. I will be working with Mike to set that up, the next time EPA is in Sacramento since trying to shoe-horn it in so soon after we decided to go that direction was not feasible to schedule.
